Dear Candidates,

Please find below the detailed instructions for the PhD admission process:

Written Examination

- The exam will be conducted online and will last 2 hours, from 9:30 AM to 11:30 AM on 29.11.2024.
- You will receive the examination link 45 minutes before the start of the exam, i.e., at 8:45 AM.

Examination Guidelines

- Ensure your webcams and microphones are turned on and that you have a stable internet connection throughout the examination.
- The exam will be monitored by designated in-charges.
- Use only your registered email ID for accessing the examination link.

Interview Process

- The interview process will commence on the same day (29.11.2024) after the written examination.
- Be prepared for the interview to continue the next day, if necessary.

Choice of Subject

- You will need to fill out a Google Form to indicate your area of interest.
- Panel assignments will be based on your selected subject.
- Note: Changes to your chosen subject will not be allowed once panel assignments are finalized.
- The panel will primarily focus on the subject you select.

Score Validation

- Candidates with a zero rank, no results, or no rank in the CSIR Score Card must provide a valid rank by the time of admission. Failure to do so will result in the cancellation of your admission.
- Candidates whose results indicate lectureship eligibility only in the CSIR Score Card are not eligible for admission, even if provisionally selected. Please note that your admission is currently provisional, as we are not verifying your application details at this stage.

Provisional Admission

- Your admission is provisional and subject to verification of the data submitted during the application process.

Important Reminder

- Ensure you have a valid original ID card with you during the examination.
- All required documents and validations must be complete and accurate to avoid any issues.
